SYNNEX Surface-as-a-Service

An elite device for an elite experience.

The SYNEX Canada Surface-as-a-Service program offers an array of Surface devices with software, accessories and service options to create the perfect all-in-one solution at one low monthly cost. With our program, customers have a 36 month subscription term, allowing for more frequent device refreshes to stay up to date on the latest technology. Customers have the power of fleet flexibility based on their needs and IT departments can now refocus time, money and resources on leading business initiatives, rather than dealing with the daily complications that come with device deployment and management.

Modernizing your approach to technology procurement.

Traditional Procurement

Device servicing and support

Internal support teams have limited ability to service device hardware and software

Unpredictable cost models

The time and capital investment in device refreshes can be costly and irregular

Hardware refresh duration

Refresh cycles take too long and are often way overdue

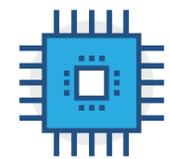

Simplified IT

IT teams can focus on value-added activities versus ongoing support for older devices

Cost predictability

Converting from CAPEX to OPEX reduces upfront expenses and introduces greater predictability

Accelerated technology adoption

The latest software and hardware is always available, giving you the competitive edge
