Audio solutions for professors, administrators, teachers, staff, and students

PLANTRONICS EDUCATION AUDIO SOLUTIONS

Teaching in the classroom, remote, or in person.

Whether you're a professor shooting a video for distance learning, or a grade school educator teaching language arts, you're passionate about what you teach. So make sure you get your point across—if you're having a faculty meeting over video conference or conducting office hours via Skype for Business.

In the office, from administration to IT.

The performance and durability of our headsets can help administrators achieve their goals—and free their teams to work untethered and hands free. And IT will appreciate that Plantronics makes it easy to integrate headsets into their telecom environment; our devices interface with virtually any phone system or desk set and deploy seamlessly into a Unified Communications platform.
